DOCUMENTATION

U.S. Department of State, Bureau of Consular Affairs, Travel Warning:

"The Department of State warns U.S. citizens against all but essential travel to Libya... [Political] violence, including car bombings in Tripoli and assassinations of military officers and alleged former regime officials in Benghazi, has increased. Inter-militia conflict can erupt at any time or any place in the country. (Travel Warning, U.S. Department of State, State.gov, August 27, 2012.)

President's Schedule: September 6, 2012 - September 11, 2012, WhiteHouse.gov

According to the White House calendar, there is no public record of President Barack Obama attending the daily intelligence briefing in the week leading up to the attacks on the U.S. embassy in Cairo and the assassinations of Libyan Ambassador Chris Stevens and three American members of his staff. (White House Schedule, WhiteHouse.gov.)

Kim Sengupta, London Independent Defense Correspondent:

"According to senior diplomatic sources, the US State Department had credible information 48 hours before mobs charged the consulate in Benghazi, and the embassy in Cairo, that American missions may be targeted, but no warnings were given for diplomats to go on high alert and 'lockdown', under which movement is severely restricted." (The London Independent, September 14, 2012.)

Mohamed Yousef El-Magariaf, Interim President of Libya:

Bob Schieffer, CBS News: Was this a long-planned attack, as far as you know? Or what-- what do you know about that?

El-Magariaf: The way these perpetrators acted and moved... and they're choosing the specific date for this so-called demonstration, I think this leaves us with no doubt that this has preplanned, determined-- predetermined.

Schieffer: And you believe that this was the work of al Qaeda and you believe that it was led by foreigners. Is that-- is that what you are telling us?

El-Magariaf: It was planned-- definitely, it was planned by foreigners, by people who entered the country a few months ago, and they were planning this criminal act since their arrival.

(Face the Nation, CBS, September 16, 2012.)

Susan Rice, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations:

"Our current best assessment, based on the information that we have at present, is that, in fact, what this began as, it was a spontaneous - not a premeditated - response to what had transpired in Cairo..."

"I've been to Libya and walked the streets of Benghazi myself. The U.S. is extremely popular in Libya."

(This Week, ABC News, September 16, 2012.)

Jamal Mabrouk, Member of Libyan February 17th Brigade:

A member of a Libyan security force said he had met with American diplomats in the capital of Benghazi three days before the deadly assault on the U.S. consulate to warn them about the deteriorating situation in the country.

"The situation is frightening, it scares us," Mabrouk said they told the U.S. officials. He would not say how they responded.

Mabrouk said it was not the first time he has warned foreigners about the worsening security situation in the face of the growing presence of armed jihadist groups in the Benghazi area. (CNN.com, September 15, 2012.)

Yevgeny Y. Satanovsky, President of the Institute of the Middle East, Moscow:

American leaders should not expect "one word of sympathy from their Russian counterparts. It is a tragedy to the family of the poor ambassador, but his blood is on the hands of Hillary Clinton personally."
