Mr. Gingras,

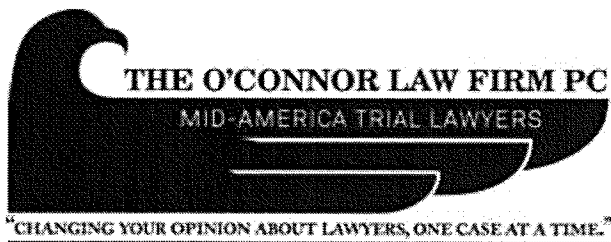

It has come to our attention that you have posted the demand letter and attachments, including emails sent from our client to www.thedirty.com, that we faxed to your office on April 14, 2011 on the website www.scribd.com. As such, unless you can provide evidence that it was someone else who posted the information, we will potentially be amending our petition to add you as a defendant for perpetuating this defamation. We further believe that you may now be a witness in the case. As a defendant and/or witness, there would certainly be a conflict with your representation of the other two defendants. The information you posted can be found at:
